CURE Intelligence has entered a partnership with brandtec GmbH, a company based in Trier and Frankfurt am Main (www.brandtec.de).

Both companies will offer their respective services to their existing and prospective customers in an integrated manner. That way, synergies arise and holistic solutions add additional value for their clients.

„CURE stands for professional services in the areas of marketing and analytics. Wherever it is beneficial, we integrate complementary expertise from our partners to provide optimal solutions for our clients. As specialist in the implementation of branding and design concepts, brandtec convinced us with its range of services and the team behind it. The past few months have been characterized by digital work and communication more than ever, which increased awareness for professional digital brand management. We have laid the foundation for a successful, long-term partnership,“ explains Marco Feiten, Managing Director at CURE Intelligence.

"With CURE, we have found a partner who shares our goals and values. The two companies' areas of expertise complement each other perfectly and pave the way for holistic brand management in the digital world" adds Thomas Rosner, Executive Partner at brandtec.

brandtec was founded in 1998 and has many renowned clients, especially in the financial sector. Its mission is to create clear, distinctive identities for companies through high-quality design and communication measures. Thus, to give a face to the totality of unifying features. This enables clients to differentiate from the competition and to achieve their business goals.
